SUBJECT: Senate Passage of S. 1429 - Terrorist
Legislation

1. Attached for your information please find copies of pages S 1382 - S 1388 from the Congressional Record of February 19, 1986. These pages reflect Senate debate on and passage of S. 1429, the "Terrorist Prosecution Act of 1985".

2. This bill has been the subject of previous memoranda from this Office. The bill as passed by the Senate is a simplified version of the original legislation. Essentially, it makes criminal under United States law the murder or assault upon a United States national when that murder or assault occurs outside the United States. The bill is designed to deter acts of international terrorism.

3. As of this date, no similar legislation has been scheduled for action in the House.

4. We will keep you advised of further developments.
